

WORK/STUDY POSITION

Lodestar | Ireland 2019

Thank you for your interest in Lodestar School of Art. We are currently accepting applications for the Work Study position for 2019.

Lodestar | Ireland 2019 is a 10-day painting and drawing intensive held at Glenstal Abbey and Castle, Murroe, County Limerick in the West of Ireland, from 4-16 August. This year's guest faculty are internationally recognised artists from Europe and the U.S., including artists, critics and academics Glenn Goldberg, Alice Maher, Judy Glantzman, Sharon Horvath, John Yau, Chuck Webster, and Denis Farrell, plus other distinguished guests. The course promises to be both rigorous and rewarding.

The Role

We have one Work/Study position for an individual who is willing to help with light administrative work, social media, driving, act as a liaison between students and staff, and other, very minimal adhoc support to the Director and School Coordinator. The bulk of the support will be required in the first two days of the course, and the last day. The remaining time is yours to spend working as a student artist.

Essential Requirements

Must first be admitted to the course through the normal application process
Be a proficient multi-tasker and a team player with a positive, can-do attitude
Possess a full, clean driver's license (and ability to drive in Ireland)
Access to a car
Fluent in English

In Exchange

In exchange for the support required the Course Fees are reduced to €1,500.

To Apply

Please first apply to the course (<http://lodestarschoolofart.com/#apply>)
Include a short cover letter indicating you are interested in also applying for the Work/Study position
Include a CV with your application materials

Questions?

Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Connie Farrell, Course Coordinator

connie.farrell@lodestarschoolofart.com

+353(0)877669622